OUR FACTORY

Biçaku products are already consolidated in the Albanian market. Experience, integrity and quality to customers, so there is enough to learn the name as one of the best furniture producer in the country.

Already certified ISO 9001-2008, we continue to be near you with creative ideas and maximum quality.

"Euro-Biçaku" Ltd was formed in 1993 by Biçaku brothers.

Initially its main direction was the production of internal doors with a limited number of models.

With a maximum commitment towards quality and customer service as well as capital growth after 1996 the company expanded its investments towards machinery and expansion of business, that brought the increasing number of produced models and expanding in the cities of Durres and Tirana.

In 2003 Biçaku brothers established "Biçaku sh.pk" as a legal person by responding to new standards and market developments.

Technology and production system improved significantly year after year, new investments create conditions for the further expansion of their products throughout Albania offering not only doors and furniture but also raw material for others, like ABS/PMMA+PST MDF panels and also PVC panels.

Since 2006 the company "Euro-Biçaku" has a ISO 9001-2008 certification of the European Community for its products, this quality that has made the company's products compete with dignity even in the foreign markets in Kosovo, Montenegro, Macedonia, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, Netherland, etc.

Many prestigious construction companies and furniture manufacturing choose as their partner "Euro-Biçaku sh.p.k" as a serious and correct supplier in business relationships.

Classic door

EURO BICAKU COMPANY uses a variety of innovative techniques to build the best doors. And while there are a number of ways to build a style and rail wood doors, EUROBICAKU believes in the enduring quality of a door with engineered styles. What does that mean? It means your door's style components, the longest components in the door, are made of multiple pieces of wood rather than a single piece of wood. This adds strength and long-lasting quality while looking exactly as if they were constructed from a single piece of wood.

Specially selected materials made the EUROBICAKU unequal in the DOOR'S DESIGN industry. Robust, solid wood internal door with extra width. Designed with a contemporary feel. Before our designers put pencil to paper to design your door, they will consider the size, ceiling height and use of your room. This solid wood door in a contemporary, natural finish is thicker and wider than a standard door to be keeping with the style and proportions of this new home.

Turn your imagination into reality with these unique door design tools. Building a door that reflects your creativity and personality is now easier than ever.

When you place a EUROBICAKU door on your space , it's a long-term relationship.
Let us help you find your perfect match.

EUROBICAKU knows that different projects call for different veneer thickness. For this purpose we use different type of thickness veneers. This thickness allows for multiples refinishes over the life of the door. For projects that require a special thicker veneer, simply let your EUROBICAKU door supplier know your project requirements up front and we can build exactly what you need.

Ideal composition of materials and models for a very special interior design. Ours is able to create bespoke furniture and decorative items for your project. We will work collaboratively with the client to produce tailor-made pieces that will ensure your interior is genuinely unique.

KLAJDI HOTELRECEPTION

Curved counters and shaped worktops allow multiple functions: reception area and freestanding workplace. Curved and straight elements combine together creating always new solutions. The integration with low counters allows to create a lot of different solutions. The winding curves characterize the reception areas making them "soft", a place where shape and function are in total harmony. A perfect balance between elegance and functionality.

Designed with passion and detailed to perfection. Science of interiority is our profession. We design, and re-design interiors following the spatial arts of environmental design in a responsive and active manner, respecting the building skeleton while anticipating the human interaction within its boundaries.

We have always prided ourselves on our dedication to delivering high quality materials in any design services to our clients. Whatever the task, one factor always remains constant – the creative interpretation of space to achieve calm and luxurious interiors of high quality materials and comfort that completely fulfill the client's aspirations. We believe that by achieving our clients' ambitions we will realize our own. We want our designed interiors to speak for themselves and improve the quality of life of those using them.

Our home furniture are always unique as they are governed by an absolute respect for the individual needs of the client. We do not limit our designs to one repeatable style. Each project produced by EUROBICAKU is entirely unique and staggeringly different. We do not just design the furniture itself but also the experience of the people spending time with it.

Our designs are always unique as they are governed by an absolute respect not only for architecture but also for the individual needs of the client. We work closely and collaboratively with our clients to produce an absolutely unique home interior furniture. Our belief is that interior design should reflect the personality of the occupant – rather than that of the designer.

We passionately believe that interior and product design should be sensitive to both building and occupant. All our designs seek a balance between an existing structure and the proposed intervention. Depending on the project we can undertake all aspects of a home interior design from space planning, furniture and decorative elements to outside spaces and gardens.

Since its inception our interior design practice has grown to manage increasingly complex interior design projects but has always remained rooted in its dedication to delivering high quality services to its clients. EUROBIKAKU has built up a wealth of experience and a talented team of highly trained interior designers, architects, craftsmen, artists and landscape designers
